A NOVEL OF MEDICAL INTRIGUE

Terminal Consent

Psychologist Jenny Barrett is thrust into the dark, predatory world of corporate managed care. Her idealism is crushed by the frightening realities of the new medicine: the total loss of privacy, open trading of medical data, and a computer named MOM who calculates profits from client deaths. An old man fights to comfort his dying wife while a religious zealot obtains personal patient data from MOM to blackmail millions of women who have had abortions. A senator seeks to reveal these formulas of death, but is targeted as an enemy. Jenny alone has the key to the secrets of the company, but MOM calculates another deadly decision.

"Timely, germane, and relevant. A medical thriller attuned to the direction medicine is heading."
